Your guide to environmental law affecting your business

Dear Subscriber

Add our new address to your safe list

We're relaunching the NetRegs update soon. It will have a new look and will be called the business environmental update. The email will update you on changes to legislation and the relevant guidance. Make sure you add our new address update@environmentandbusiness.org.uk

to your safe senders list.

NetRegs is on the move

Our guidance on environmental topics has moved to Business Link, NI Business Info, Business Gateway and Business. Wales.gov.uk. Over the next few months the rest of our guidance will be moving and we will keep you updated on the changes. Read more on the changes to NetRegs.

Spread the word

Do you know a business that would benefit from staying informed, saving money and going green with NetRegs updates?

Not your update?

If this NetRegs update was forwarded to you by a friend, sign up now for your own update on environmental regulations.

Comply with the new waste hierarchy

From 28 September, whenever you pass waste on to someone else, you must declare on your waste transfer note or hazardous waste consignment note that you have applied the waste management hierarchy. Find out what the waste hierarchy is and what you need to do.

Have your say on environmental regulations

Which regulations are working, which are not, which should be scrapped, which should be simplified, and what can be done differently? From 1 September you have three weeks to tell government what you think about environmental regulations as part of the focus on environment. Find out more about the red tape challenge.

Quick guide to civil sanctions

Find out how the Environment Agency is using civil sanctions to achieve environmental outcomes and ongoing compliance, instead of taking organisations to court. Read the civil sanctions quick guide.

What do you want from government websites?

What are your top business tasks and what are your experiences of government websites? Business.gov want your views so they can better meet your business needs. Complete the survey to tell Business.gov what the top tasks are that you need from government.

New environmental legislation

Remember you can always check NetRegs for environmental legislation that has come into force in the past 12 months in England, Northern Ireland, Scotland and Wales.
